

Wish You Were Here: Nate Ross

When did you live in the Bay Area, and what brought you here?

Lindsey and I lived in San Francisco from 2006 -2013 and Oakland from 2014 - 2019. I was born in San Jose CA, attended art school in San Francisco and started my career as an animator in that great city as well. We left the bay for our new adventure abroad in November 2019.

What prompted you to leave?

I was presented with an opportunity to work and live in London.

Where did you end up?

London, England

Has your artwork changed or evolved since you left the Bay Area?

Since the move was only a few months ago, my artwork hasn't evolved much as of yet, but I have some new ideas brewing and am very excited for what is to come

What are you up to now?

I am working for an animation company called Framestore, doing digital plein air paintings during my lunch breaks, and oil painting on nights and weekends.
